NOTES ON CREATING THE ABSTRACTS

➢ The abstracts in both German and English should contain

➢ not shorter than 200 and max. 300 words

➢ The abstracts should be informative and serve as "advertising copy" for your contributions.

➢ The abstracts should be structured and contain information on the following points:
  – Background – Why was a specific analysis carried out?
  – Original value of the analysis – how should this be assessed in the context of previous research?
  – Objectives – What research questions were asked that were answered as a result of the analysis carried out?
  – Methodology – How was the analysis carried out?
  – Results – What was found and how were the results interpreted?
  – Conclusions
  – Practical use of the analysis, if applicable.

Please note three more aspects:
- All of the key words you have named should appear in the abstract.
- In terms of expression, the content of the abstract should not be identical to the introduction in your contribution.
- The two abstracts (German and English) should be identical.
